Dear Board Members:

The purpose of this letter is to outline the terms of our engagement to audit the financial statements of University of Regina Alumni Association for the year ending March 31, 2024.

Objective, Scope and Limitations

Our statutory function as auditor of University of Regina Alumni Association is to report to the members by expressing an opinion on University of Regina Alumni Association's annual financial statements. We will conduct our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards and will issue an audit report.

As auditors conducting an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we plan to obtain reasonable assurance that the financial statements taken as a whole are free of material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. It is important to recognize that an auditor cannot obtain absolute assurance that material misstatements in the financial statements will be detected because of:

- Factors such as use of judgment, and the use of testing of the data underlying the financial statements;
- Inherent limitations of internal control; and
- The fact that much of the audit evidence available to the auditor is persuasive rather than conclusive in nature.

Furthermore, because of the nature of fraud, including attempts at concealment through collusion and forgery, an audit designed and executed in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards may not detect a material fraud. Further, while effective internal control reduces the likelihood that misstatements will occur and remain undetected, it does not eliminate that possibility. For these reasons, we cannot guarantee that fraud, error and illegal acts, if present, will be detected when conducting an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards.

Unless unanticipated difficulties are encountered, our report will be substantially in the form provided in Appendix "A".

Our Responsibilities

We will perform the audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position, results of operations and cash flows in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. Accordingly, we will plan and perform our audit to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance of detecting fraud and errors that have a material effect on the financial statements taken as a whole, including illegal acts whose consequences have a material effect on the financial statements.

An overview of our detailed audit planning has been provided to the Board of Directors (as summarized in Appendix

One of the underlying principles of the profession is a duty of confidentiality with respect to client affairs. Accordingly, except for information that is in or enters the public domain, we will not provide any third party with confidential information concerning the affairs of University of Regina Alumni Association without University of Regina Alumni Association’s prior consent, unless required to do so by appropriate legal or regulatory authorities, or the harmonized rules of professional conduct of CPA Saskatchewan.

We will communicate, at our discretion, in writing to the Board of Directors the relationships between us and University of Regina Alumni Association (including related entities), that, in our professional judgment, may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence. Further, we will confirm our independence with respect to University of Regina Alumni Association.

The objective of our audit is to obtain reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free of material misstatement. However, if we identify any of the following matters, they will be communicated to the appropriate level of management and, where appropriate, those charged with governance:

- Misstatements, resulting from error, other than trivial errors;
- Fraud or any information obtained that indicates that a fraud may exist;
- Any evidence obtained that indicates that an illegal or possibly illegal act, other than one considered inconsequential, has occurred;
- Significant weaknesses in the design or implementation of internal control to prevent and detect fraud or error; and
- Related party transactions that are not in the normal course of operations and that involve significant judgments made by management concerning measurement or disclosure.

The matters communicated will be limited to those that we identify during the course of our audit. Audits do not usually identify all matters that may be of interest to management and, where appropriate, those charged with governance in discharging its responsibilities. The type and significance of the matter to be communicated will determine the level of management to which the communication is directed.

We will consider University of Regina Alumni Association’s internal control to identify types of potential misstatements, consider factors that affect the risks of material misstatement, and design the nature, timing and extent of further audit procedures. This consideration will not be sufficient to enable us to render an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting.

We will issue all of our reports and opinions under our firm name. The firm name, “Virtus Group, Chartered Professional Accountants & Business Advisors LLP” or “Virtus Group LLP”, should not be used, copied or referred to in any other manner with respect to materials or documents which may be available to persons external to University of Regina Alumni Association without our expressed written consent.

 - Relevant to your judgments or estimates that are material, either individually or in the aggregate, to the financial statements.

The audit of the financial statements does not relieve management or those charged with governance of their responsibilities.

Fees

Regarding our audit of the annual financial statements as described in this letter, University of Regina Alumni Association and Virtus Group LLP agree to an estimated fee of $7,500 for this service.

Our fee estimate considers the quality of University of Regina Alumni Association's accounting records and the agreed upon level of preparation and assistance from University of Regina Alumni Association personnel. We will inform University of Regina Alumni Association on a timely basis should these factors not be in place or should other circumstances arise which might cause the actual time we incur to exceed our estimate.

Upon completion of these services, we will review with you any fees and expenses incurred in excess of our estimate, following which we will render our final billing.

Our fees, which will be billed as the work progresses, are based on our standard hourly rates plus reimbursement of our expenses. Other disbursements for items such as travel, accommodation and meals will be charged based on our actual disbursements.

Invoices for services completed and in progress will be promptly rendered and are due and payable when received. Amounts overdue are subject to interest at 1.5% per month (18% per annum).

Our fees are exclusive of GST and any applicable provincial sales taxes. Accordingly, the appropriate amounts of tax will be computed and shown separately on our invoices.

Fees for any other services, such as special-purpose reports, will be billed separately from the services described in this engagement letter and may be subject to written terms and conditions supplemental to those in this letter.

All personal information will be treated as confidential by Virtus Group LLP.

Electronic Distribution and Communications

While a report may be sent to University of Regina Alumni Association electronically by Virtus Group LLP for University of Regina Alumni Association's convenience, only the signed report (electronic or manual signature), if any, constitutes the University of Regina Alumni Association record copy.

University of Regina Alumni Association recognizes and accepts the risks associated with communicating by Internet (e-mail) including the lack of security, unreliability of delivery and possible loss of confidentiality and legal privilege. Unless University of Regina Alumni Association requests in writing that Virtus Group LLP not communicate with it by Internet (e-mail), Virtus Group LLP accepts no responsibility or liability in respect of any loss or damage associated with the use of Internet communications.

Governing Law

This engagement letter shall be subject to and governed by the laws of the province where Virtus Group LLP's principal office performing the engagement is located (without regard to such province's rules on conflicts of law) and all disputes arising hereunder or related thereto shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of such province of Canada.

Designated Public Documents

Designated public documents are defined as those documents containing either full or summarized financial statements that we have audited or reviewed, and include:

- Annual reports of not-for-profit organizations, governments or government organizations; and
- Those documents with which we are deemed to be associated, even if they do not contain financial statements that we have audited or reviewed (e.g. Annual Information Forms and Management's Discussion and Analysis).

1. Management's Responsibility

When applicable, management and, where appropriate, those charged with governance agrees to provide us with copies of University of Regina Alumni Association's designated public documents prior to their release and to provide us with adequate notice of the preparation of such documents.

If University of Regina Alumni Association posts the designated public documents on University of Regina Alumni Association's website or on other electronic sites, management and, where appropriate, those charged with governance are solely responsible for the accurate and complete reproduction of the financial statements and our reports thereon. We accept no responsibility for any claim or damages resulting from any inaccurate or incomplete reproduction of such financial statements or our report thereon.

2. Our Responsibility

Professional standards require us to:

- Determine whether the financial statements and our report thereon have been accurately reproduced in the designated public documents.
- Read the financial statements and our report thereon that are to be posted on the University of Regina Alumni Association website and compare the information therein to the version ultimately posted to determine whether this information has been accurately reproduced from the original.
- Read the other information contained in the designated public documents and consider whether such information, or the manner of its presentation, raises questions regarding, or appears to be otherwise inconsistent with, the financial statements upon which we have reported. However, an audit does not include the performance of procedures to corroborate such other information (including forward-looking statements). Accordingly, we will not provide any assurance, either positive or negative, on the other information contained in the designated public documents or on the documents as a whole.
- When the designated public documents are issued in another language, satisfy ourselves that each version of the financial statements and the report thereon includes the same information and in all material respects carries the same meaning as each other version and that the other information contained in the designated public documents has been translated in such a way as not to be inconsistent with the financial statements or the report thereon.

3. Other Matters

Management and, where appropriate, those charged with governance acknowledges that we have no obligation to monitor subsequent amendments to the information on the University of Regina Alumni Association website, unless we are separately engaged to do so. We accept no responsibility for any claim or damages resulting from any subsequent amendments that result in inaccurate or incomplete reproduction of such financial statements or our report thereon.

Management and, where appropriate, those charged with governance acknowledges and confirms their understanding that we are not responsible for reading any other public document issued by University of Regina Alumni Association unless agreement is reached in advance as to the procedures we will perform and the form our report will take.

These authorities are subject to change, retroactively and/or prospectively, and any such changes could affect the validity of our advice. Our conclusions will not otherwise take into account or anticipate any changes in law or practice, by way of judicial, governmental or legislative action or interpretation. Unless you specifically request otherwise, Virtus Group LLP will not update our advice to take any such changes into account.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

APPENDIX "A"

To the Members
University of Regina Alumni Association

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of University of Regina Alumni Association, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2024, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Association as at March 31, 2024, and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Association in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Saskatchewan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Association's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Association or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Association's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Association's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Association's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Association to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

AUDIT PLANNING CONSIDERATIONS

APPENDIX "B"

Throughout the audit, we will consider the following in determining the nature, extent and timing of audit procedures.

1. Materiality recognizes that some items either individually or in total are important if the financial statements are to be presented fairly in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. A material misstatement is one significant enough to affect the decision of a reader with reasonable knowledge of business and economic activities. Misstatements arise from departures from fact, inappropriate estimates, and omissions of information in relation to the standard of Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

For determining materiality for planning purposes for the University of Regina Alumni Association we consider expenses to be the most appropriate basis.

We request concurrence of the Association's Board of Directors that materiality for planning purposes for the year ending March 31, 2024 be set at $8,500, which may be adjusted based on the final year end figures.

2. Assurance provided by an audit is the level of confidence a user can derive from the audit that the financial statements are presented fairly. It is neither feasible nor cost effective for the auditor to look at all evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, therefore, the auditor obtains reasonable but not absolute assurance. The auditor determines what, when, and how much to test on the basis of his professional judgement and expertise, with due regard to Canadian generally accepted auditing standards.

A high level of assurance (95% confidence) is planned in the audit of University of Regina Alumni Association.

3. Auditability assessment is a process by which the auditor assesses whether environmental, organizational and financial risks of the Association are below an acceptable level and whether normal audit efficiency is achievable.

We base our assessment of auditability on an evaluation of the Association's business risks and the Association's responses with regard to those risks.

For the purposes of planning our audit, we have made a preliminary determination of the composite risk for University of Regina Alumni Association as low. This risk assessment may change as additional information becomes available to us during the course of our audit. Changes in our assessment of risk will be discussed with management and the board of directors.

4. Inherent and control risks are functions of the entity and are affected by the nature of its business as well as its economic and control environments. We must assess whether a material misstatement could occur in the first place (inherent risk), and if it does occur, would be prevented or detected by your internal controls (control risk). Our assurance model considers these risks on each major account or class of transactions.

We base our assessments on:

- (a) our knowledge of the Association's business,
- (b) control environment review, and
- (c) system control review and testing.
